HUGHES OUTLINES HIS VIEWS ON TREATY RESERVATIONS

Replying to Letter From Frederick Hale Suggests Ratification Resolution—Favors a League—Immigration and Imports Domesttic Problems, Upholds Monroe Doctrine, Congress to Authorize Use of Force.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, D. C., July 28.—The following correspondence was today made public:

United States Senate,
July 18, 1919.
Hon. Charles Evans Hughes,
95 Broadway,
New York City.

My Dear Judge Hughes:
Many of us in the senate are in favor of having the United States enter a League of Nations provided that in doing so we do not sacrifice the sovereignty or traditional policies of our country. We believe that the proposed covenant for a League of Nations in the peace treaty before the senate does make such a sacrifice. Rather than take the covenant as it now stands I am very certain that considerably more than one-third of the senate would refuse to ratify the treaty altogether. As far as I am personally concerned I do not want to see this happen and I do not want to see some plan devised whereby the United States may safely enter the League of Nations. It has seemed to some of us that this result could best be accomplished by attaching certain reservations to the proposed covenant which would limit the participation by the United States in the league. I shall be very glad if you will give me your opinion as to the validity of such reservations and as to what reservations in your judgment be made to safeguard the interests of our country.

Sincerely yours,
FREDERICK HALE.

July 24, 1919.
Hon. Frederick Hale,
United States Senate,
Washington, D. C.

My Dear Senator Hale:
I am in receipt of your letter of July 18th, and it gives me pleasure to comply with your request for my opinion with respect to the validity and advisability of reservations on the part of the United States in entering the proposed League of Nations.

Permit me to state at the outset the point of view from which I think the questions should be approached. There is plain need for a League of Nations in order to provide for the adequate development of international law, for creating and maintaining organs of international justice and the machinery of conciliation and conference, and for giving effect to measures of international co-operation which from time to time may be agreed upon. There is also the immediate exigency to be considered. It is manifest that every reasonable effort should be made to establish peace as promptly as possible and to bring about a condition in which Europe can resume its normal industrial activity.

I perceive no reason why these objects cannot be attained without sacrificing the essential interests of the United States. There is a middle ground between aloofness and injurious commitments.

I share the regret that suitable steps have not been taken for the formation of international legal principles and to secure judicial determinations of international disputes by impartial tribunals, and that the hope of the world in the determination of disputes has been made to rest so largely upon the decision of bodies likely to be controlled by considerations of expediency. There is merit enough in the proposed plan to make it desirable to secure it, if proper safeguards can be obtained, but it is just as futile to exaggerate its value as it is to see nothing but its defects. One must take a light-hearted view of conditions in the world to assume that the proposed plan will guarantee peace, or bring about a cessation of intrigue and of the rivalries of interests, or prevent nations which cannot protect themselves from being compelled to yield to unjust demands where for any reason great powers deem resistance inexpedient. Rather, the proposed covenant should be viewed as a mere beginning and while it is important that we should have a beginning, it is equally important that we should not make a false start.

I think that the prudent course is to enter the proposed league with reservations of a reasonable character, adequate to our security, which should meet ready assent, and thus to establish a condition of amity at the earliest possible moment.

As to the validity of reservations: This question has two aspects: First, with respect to the action on our part which is essential to the making of reservations; and, second, as to the effect of reservations upon other parties to the treaty.

As to the first question, it is manifest that attempted reservations will be ineffectual unless they qualify the act of ratification. The adoption of resolutions by the senate setting forth its views will not affect the obligations of the covenant, if it is in fact considered without reservations which constitute part of the instrument of ratification. If the senate should adopt reservations by a majority vote, I assume that these will be made part of the proposed resolution of assent to the treaty, and the question will then be whether the senate will give its assent, with these reservations by the requisite two-thirds vote. If the proposed reservations are reasonable, the responsibility for the defeat of the treaty, if it is defeated, will lie with those who refuse the vote essential to the assent. If the senate gives its assent to the treaty with reservations, the concurrence of the president will still be necessary, as ratification will not be complete without his action, and the responsibility for a refusal to give the ratification with the reservations as adopted by the senate as a part of the instrument of ratification would thus lie with the president.

Assuming that the reservations are made as a part of the instrument of ratification, the other parties to the treaty will be notified accordingly. As a contract, the treaty of course will bind only those who consent to it. The nation making reservations as a part of the instrument of ratification is not bound further than it agrees to be bound. And if a reservation, as a part of the ratification, makes a material addition to, or a substantial change in, the proposed treaty, other parties will not be bound unless they assent. It should be added that where a treaty is made on the part of a number of nations, they may acquiesce in a partial ratification on the part of one or more.

But where there is simply a statement of the interpretation placed by the ratifying state upon ambiguous clauses in the treaty, whether or not the statement is called a reservation, the case is really not one of amendment, and acquiescence of the other parties to the treaty may readily be inferred unless express objection is made after notice has been received of the ratification with the interpretative statement forming a part of it. Statements, to safeguard our interests, which clarify ambiguous clauses in the covenant by setting forth our interpretation of them, and especially when the interpretation is one which is urged by the advocates of the covenant to induce support, can meet with no reasonable objection. It is not to be supposed that such interpretations will be opposed by other parties to the treaty, and they will tend to avoid disputes in the future. Nor should we assume that a reservation would lead to the failure of the treaty or compel a resumption of the Peace Conference, when the reservation leaves unimpaired the main provisions of the covenant looking to the peaceful settlement of disputes and the organization of conferences, and simply seeks to avoid any apparent assumption of an obligation on our part to join in a war at some indefinite time in the future, for a cause the merits of which cannot now be forecast as it is evident that in such cases we must inevitably await the future action of congress in accordance with what may then be the demand of the conscience of the nation. In contemplating this experimental, albeit hopeful, enterprise, our security and good faith are primary considerations. Those, either here or abroad, who would oppose such reasonable interpretations or reservations on our part would take a heavy responsibility.

The question is then what, specifically, should the reservations be: (1) With respect to the right of withdrawal (Article 1). It is reasonable to provide that a member withdrawing from the league should not be released from a debt or liability previously incurred. But it should not be possible that, through a claim of the non-performance of an obligation, a member desiring to withdraw should be kept in the league, perhaps indefinitely. I understand that different interpretations have been put upon the clause in question, and I think that there should be a clarifying statement as a part of the ratification.

(2) The clause relating to domestic matters, such as immigration or tariff laws is ambiguous (Article XVI), as it provides for a finding by the council within the domestic jurisdiction. There should be a clear statement of our understanding that such matters, where no international enactment has been made with respect thereto, are not submitted for the consideration or action of the league or any of its agencies.

(3) It is urged by the advocates of the covenant that Article XXI (monocinism and protection of the Monroe doctrine) in the article is inaccurate, and the meaning of the article is far from clear. There should be an interpretative statement which will remove all doubt that the traditional policy of the United States as to pure American questions is still maintained. I fully endorse Mr. Root's proposed statement of reservation and understanding upon this point, but in the view that an alternative form of statement may be helpful, I submit one below.

(4) I agree with Mr. Root that it would be desirable to eliminate Article X, with its uncertainty as to "give service against external aggression of territorial integrity" of all members.

JAPS SAY WILL RETURN SHANTUNG

If China Will Negotiate—Say Wilson Can Make Conference Minutes Public—Delegates at Paris Reveal Suspicion.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, July 28.—The Japanese peace delegates announced today that they will not make public the minutes of the peace conference referring to the Shantung peninsula decision unless ordered to do so by the Tokyo government.

The position taken by the Japanese is that they are not concerned with the rumors aroused in the American congress over the agreement to give Japan Chinese territorial rights in Shantung, but they do not see any reason why President Wilson cannot make the minutes public. Denial is made by the Japanese envoys that they are responsible for the secrecy attending the decision, saying that there is nothing to hide.

The Japanese resent the suspicions aroused in America and insist that they are ready to return Shantung to China as soon as possible and will arrange a transfer if China will consent to negotiate. The statement declared there will be no strings attached to the proposed negotiations with China and that the terms will not be secret. The decision, Japanese delegates assert, will not only be just but generous. They declare they are willing for the whole world to judge whether they are taking advantage of China.

MORE CHICAGO NEGROES SHOT

Lull Today in Race Riot on South Side—Trouble Started at Bathing Beach—2 Dead and Scores Hurt.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, July 28.—Two more negroes were shot and seriously wounded early today in the race riot that for fifteen hours has made a battlefield of the negro district on the South Side. As a result additional police guards have been thrown up throughout the district.

Casualties of the rioting thus far are one negro known to be dead, one white reported killed, and scores injured. Thirty men, whites and negroes, are being held in jail for investigation.

Although there has been no outbreak for several hours, the situation is still very unsettled and the police are watching all developments closely. Chicago, July 28.—Mounted police and armed patrolmen are on guard today in the negro district of the south side following race riots in which one negro boy was killed, two persons probably fatally wounded and more than one hundred less seriously hurt.

The trouble is said to have been caused by an attempt by negroes to invade a bathing beach customarily used by white folks. Augustus Strauber, accused of hurling a brick which struck a negro boy swimming in the lake and caused him to drown, was arrested.

As news of the trouble at the beach spread, mobs of whites and blacks quickly formed and scores of clashes in which clubs and stones were hurled and a few shots fired resulted. Police authorities threw 400 reserves into the district and early today order had been restored.

STATE POLICE MADE GOOD.
Did Fine Work Handling the Crowd at Marlborough.

The smooth way in which the crowd was handled on the occasion of Governor Smith's visit to Marlborough last Friday was due in no small degree to the efficient work of the state troopers, who acted as traffic policemen. Without friction or noise they regulated traffic and assigned automobiles to their place in line, avoiding congestion or risk of accident. Among the troopers was Vincent D. Cashin of No. 55 Staples street, who joined the state police after being honorably discharged from the United States Army in which he saw service with a machine gun battalion in France.

CO-OPERATING FOR DOLLAR DAY

Preparations for Kingston's big Dollar Day, Wednesday, August 6, are in full swing today. Chairman C. H. Lovin, of the Dollar Day committee, Chairman W. C. Rivenburg, of Dollar Day publicity and Secretary Hudson, of the chamber of commerce were busy recruiting a special committee which is visiting all Kingston stores distributing the Dollar Day signs which have been prepared by the retail board of the chamber of commerce and arranging for a universal cooperation in that every line of business may be included in this co-operative trade event.

The committee in charge expect that the fine record of co-operation which was made in the spring Dress-up Week will be greatly exceeded in Dollar Day. "The butcher, the baker, the candle stick maker"—in fact every retail establishment in the city can come into Dollar Day.

A vast amount of ingenuity is being exercised in finding the most attractive offerings at a dollar, at a reduction of a dollar and at reductions of many dollars.

The result will be an extraordinary increase in the purchasing power of dollars in Kingston and the surrounding territory.

KAISER AND CROWN PRINCE ABDICATED WITHOUT CONSENT

Wilhelm Was Telling Generals He Wouldn't Give Up Prussian Throne and Crown Prince Was In Garden When Both Were Told by Chancellor Max They Were Through.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, July 28.—The dramatic "inside" story of the collapse of Germany's mighty military machine; of how the Kaiser wanted to head a German army and march into the fatherland to restore order while the balance of the troops were opposing the allies on the western front, and of how the former emperor and crown prince "abdicated" without knowing anything about it were all revealed in a hitherto hidden chapter of the war made public today.

Some of the pan-German newspapers print details of the events, beginning November 1, 1918, tending to prove that Prince Max, then chancellor, announced prematurely the abdication of the Kaiser and his flight into Holland from Spa, then the seat of the German great headquarters.

News Comes From Hindenburg.
The statements contained in the Pan-German expose are said to be vouched for by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the German chief of staff; General von Plessen, aide de camp to the former emperor; Admiral von Hinzp, former German foreign secretary; General Marshall and General Schulenburg, all of whom were at headquarters at the time.

According to one press report, which covers two pages of a newspaper, Prince Max sent Prussian minister of interior from Berlin to Spa, on November 1st, to advise the war lord that domestic developments were serious and to propose his abdication.

In the presence of Hindenburg, Plessen and General von Groener, the ex-Kaiser replied that "he was determined to remain dutiful at his post."

General von Groener, a typical Prussian officer, and at one time food controller of Germany, was sent to Berlin to investigate.

On November 8th, von Groener returned to Spa and reported that abdication was inevitable, although, as an officer, he personally opposed this step.

Wanted To Put Down Revolt.
The former Kaiser then proposed that he return to Germany heading an army to restore order at home. In the meantime instructing von Groener to prepare for the operation.

On the same night there was a conference of Hindenburg, Plessen and Groener at which the last named officer told of the demoralization of the army and the shortage of supplies and ammunition. The revolutionaries had seized all of the railway junctions blocking the Rhine which made it impossible to fight the enemy at home and the Entente simultaneously, von Groener pointed out. Hindenburg, after listening to the facts, supported Groener's views.

On the morning of November 9 there was another military council at which the ex-Kaiser received all of the beforementioned generals and a number of others. Hindenburg presented his resignation as chief of staff but the ex-Kaiser rejected it.

Plessen and Schulenburg proposed an armistice saying that only that action could save Germany and the imperial throne. Hindenburg and Groener opposed an armistice, but the ex-Kaiser finally consented.

Would Return Anyway.
At the same time the ex-Kaiser abandoned his intention of making war upon the revolutionaries, declaring that he would return under the escort of commanding generals, but never under troops that had been disloyal to him.

Towards the end of the conference the chancellor at Berlin got headquarters on the telephone and the first official demand for the abdication of the ex-emperor and the ex-crown prince was made.

The crown prince then appeared from the garden of the villa where the conference was being held. His father instructed him not to leave the army, but to lead his divisions home in safety.

Later thirty-nine generals arrived at headquarters to report on sentiment in the army. A majority of them expressing the opinion that it was doubtful if the ex-Kaiser would be able to suppress the uprising of troops at home and to fight the Bolsheviks, all being tired and wanting an armistice.

Max Insisted.
Again the Berlin chancellor got into communication with headquarters on the telephone. Prince Max himself was on the wire and he asserted that it was imperative that abdication be an accomplished fact "within a few minutes" or "nothing would be lost."

Hindenburg contended that neither the chancellor nor the revolutionaries were authorized to demand the abdication of William as King of Prussia. The ex-Kaiser then declared that he would be willing to renounce the imperial throne only—that is to abdicate as German emperor but not as King of Prussia. Thereupon he transferred supreme command of all but the Prussian troops to Hindenburg.

While composing the decree of abdication Admiral von Hinzp telephoned to the chancellor in Berlin getting Prince Max on the wire. The prince declared that the Wolff Bureau (the official news agency of the German government) had already sent out the announcement that both the Kaiser and the crown prince had abdicated everything, including the Prussian throne, and that the news had been communicated to the army. The crown prince had not even been consulted. His imperial hopes tumbled about his head without his having a word to say about it.

SAYS LET WILSON HANDLE MEXICO

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 28.—Chargers that Carranza was "anti-Saxon more than anti-American" and that he sought to drive American and British capital out of Mexico by hostile legislation or other means, William Gates of California, an archeologist and student of Mexican affairs, who recently returned from Mexico, this afternoon urged that Mexican matters be left temporarily in the hands of President Wilson. Gates appeared before the house rules committee, which is considering a resolution ordering a full investigation of Mexican affairs by the house foreign affairs committee.

Gates expressed the belief that the greatest danger in Mexico now was from Bolshevists, fostered by German influence, and an uprising of the Yaqui Indians.

"There is no hope in General Obregon, who is anti-American, a Socialist leader in sympathy with the Bolsheviks, but who is dying of cancer," Gates added.

German Bolshevik propaganda leaders in Mexico have been in the United States getting aid for the movement in Mexico, Gates testified, and the Socialist party secretary in the United States has written Obregon, asking his judgment for the proper time for a concerted Bolshevik movement in the United States, Mexico, Cuba and Canada, he said.

The American people know nothing of Mexican affairs and the Mexican people know nothing of Mexican sentiment because of press censorship, Gates declared. The American papers publish only what is given them by the Carranza authorities.

Memorial Notice.

In loving memory of our beloved daughter and sister, Catherine Chambers, who departed this life July 25, 1918.

Soft and bright the stars are shining

On a sad and lonely grave—

Lies the one we love so dearly,

Whom we tried but could not save.

How we miss her cheerful and loving smile.

And her presence everywhere.

Our family circle is broken now

For baby dear has left a vacant chair.

But her memory will always cheer.

'Till we meet her in the home up there.

Where sorrow and parting enter not.

And there'll be no vacant chair

(Signed) MR. AND MRS. SIMON CHAMBERS AND FAMILY.

SHERMAN WOULD AMEND TREATY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 28.—Balancing of financial aid and credit given the United States of America by any foreign nation during the civil war against the indebtedness of the United States, incurred by the nation during the war with Germany, was prohibited in an amendment to the treaty of Versailles sponsored by Senator Sherman, Republican of Illinois, in the senate this afternoon.

The amendment was referred to the senate foreign affairs relations committee.

Sherman said that he had been informed that Great Britain, France and other nations, to whom the United States loaned billions during the war, were seeking to escape part payment of their indebtedness by suggesting that the money the confederates had never repaid be deducted from what they owe this country.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 28.—There was a good demand for stocks at the beginning of business today, gains of fractions to over one point being recorded in many issues, but the supply was in evidence and within a few minutes a reaction was in progress, in which the early gains were generally wiped out, with a number of stocks showing moderate losses when the first fifteen minutes ended.

U. S. Steel Common moved up 1/4 to 113 1/4, from which it declined to 112 1/4; United Retail Stores made a gain of 1/4 to 100 1/4, but later yielded to 98 1/4.

Baldwin Locomotive was the strongest feature in the market trading, making a gain of 1/4 to 117 1/4, which was followed by 1/4 decline to 116 1/4. Anaconda was steady, yielding 1/4 to 75 1/4, and Kennecott fell 1/4 to 42.

Price movements were uncertain during the forenoon. U. S. Steel, after rising to 113 1/4, dropped to 112 1/4. Baldwin Locomotive advanced to 117 1/4, but reacted to 116 1/4. Central Foundries preferred advanced 1/2 points to 75. Marine Common yielded from 66 1/4 to 64 1/4 and the preferred fell 1/4 to 127 1/4. United Food Products rose over 2 points to 84 1/4. Corn Products fell nearly 2 points to 92.

The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Cyclones.

The most violent cyclones originate in tropical latitudes, in the Atlantic ocean to the north and east of West Indian Islands, and in the Pacific in the China sea and in the neighborhood of the Philippine Islands. The reason they are so destructive is because they are carried great distances by extraneous influences. The West Indian cyclones are attracted toward the Gulf stream by the great volume of heat which it always brings over it and follows its course; so the cyclones of the Pacific follow the course of Kuro-Siwo, the great oceanic current which passes around the East Indian archipelago, the shores of China and the Japanese Islands. Cyclones may be anywhere from 50 to 500 miles in diameter and may travel over a path of 5,000 miles in extent.

Fighting Colors.

Scientists have found by observation and experimenting that certain colors are bad for human temperaments. Reds, most of the varying shades, are veritable "fighting colors," and actually disturb and irritate their victims to a degree that is even bad for their health. Red wallpaper makes occupants of a room irritable and fractious. Green is said to be depressing in a room, regardless of the fact that nature has used this color in prodigious fashion in the big outdoors. Browns are restful, but not uplifting. Blue, blue, blue is the color, all its shades, that make for happiness. Perhaps that was the motif that gave Mark Twain the idea of the bluebird for happiness.

Conquer Time.

If your mind and heart hunger for books, or music, or art, or whatever it may be, do not let that impatient, voracious ego, which inhabits the frames of most women, prevent you from eating of the manna that is so freely offered if you will only take it. Make time your slave, and do not be the slave of time. Be content with the interruptions that must come with each day, if you are to lead lives that are full and satisfying in the end. For after all love and tenderness and gentleness and joy and truth and honor are the real things in life that count.—Exchange.

Rat Storyway in Airplane.

A steaming rat was found, or rather found, on the military airplane which flew to India last night. It is supposed to have boarded the machine at Chobur, in Arabia, probably attracted by the food supplies the aviator carried aboard the big bomber. That rat became a nuisance, and indeed, a potential danger. At the way to Karachi it could be heard gnawing something. The question was—what? It might be making a hole in something very important! At Karachi an effort was made to capture the rodent or drive it off the machine but all attempts failed. Being an Arabian war plane, the idea occurred to some one that it would not be injured so long as the machine, on leaving Karachi, was taken to 10,000 feet. The idea was tried, but the rat did not hold and fell late after.

Florida's Desolated Coast.

To illustrate, capital of Florida, to see the damage done by the storm, a more picturesque to the north of the storm, it is a real bit of the old South—the South of peace and working birds of commerce and industry of easy-going ways of life. Between each when it was made the state capital, and the Gulf war, Tallahassee was one of the finest towns in the South for the rich Florida planters, owners of 1,000-acre estates, came there regularly for the meeting of the legislature, and a gay social season. The big plantations have been broken up, and life at Tallahassee is not as picturesque as once it was. But the town itself has not changed much. It is a veritable town of flowers, especially in the spring when the roses bloom. It is also famous for its sugar cane and its citrus fruit.

STONE RIDGE.

Stone Ridge, July 28.—On Wednesday, July 30, in the afternoon and evening, there will be an ice cream social held on the grounds of the M. E. Church. Ice cream and home-made cake will be served for the small sum of fifteen cents. At eight o'clock there will be a short but free musical entertainment in the church, but during the entire evening there will be another attraction. Very nearly everyone, both young and old, like to fish. Although the moonlight will be out of the question that evening, Jack o'lanterns and torches will be there to light up the fish pond which will be on the church grounds during the serving of refreshments. This pond will be filled with all sorts of carterfish and anyone can fish upon the deposit of one nickel. The great advantage of this extra feature is that you will always get a bite if you cast your line in. So, to you who do not have the best of luck when fishing should surely fish in this unusual pond. It is bound to furnish lots of amusement and make your evening an enjoyable one. The entire program will be conducted by the young people of the M. E. Church. Come and spend a pleasant evening with your friends.

We are very glad to have Ray Ramsom of Co. H, of Birmingham back to visit us again.

We are much pleased that O. Terwilliger has opened up the ice cream parlor across from the post office.

BEHIND THE CENSORSHIP

Dr. Loughran Gives Rotarians Little Known Facts About Conditions at the Front When Allies Were in Despair—Then Came the Yanks.

Kingston Rotarians at their last luncheon were so fortunate as to have an informal talk by Dr. E. D. B. Loughran of this city, late captain in the U. S. Army Medical Corps, one of the first Americans to go to France. Dr. Loughran embarked July 16, 1917, on the Saratoga, the ship that was rammed by the Panama while lying at anchor off Tompkinsville and sunk in 20 minutes. Six days later he sailed on another ship, arriving in France when there were only about 15,000 American troops there. Being stationed at American base hospitals in Paris and elsewhere and having served for some time with the British troops at the front, Dr. Loughran observed many things which he related in an interesting manner. Of especial interest was the impressions he gave of the period of despondency during the winter and spring of 1918 when even those high in command believed the Allied cause lost, when 1,500,000 Parisians sought refuge elsewhere and even the hospitals had cammions ready to transport the wounded on a minute's notice from the French capital if the Germans got any nearer. The censorship, very properly, made it impossible for the newspapers to print these facts at the time, and since the censorship has been lifted the rush of other events have caused them to be lost sight of by the newspapers who concern themselves only with events of the day. This is why we know so little of the real claim that America won the war by turning the tide when the morale of both British and French was at its lowest, when French troops mutinied and refused to fight longer for a cause they were sure was lost and even English and American officers feared that America had come in too late to save the world from German domination.

The great question, Dr. Loughran said, was "Will the Americans fight?" Even our own men were wondering. We had never had an army of such magnitude. We had the theory, but we did not have the practice. But after Cantigny the observing lines knew what the regulars could do. "There are the most wonderful I ever saw, nothing can stop them," said a French officer. Then he asked: "Are they all the same? If they are the war is over." And they were all the same. Their spirit was magnificent—phenomenal. In the hurry it was impossible to have a perfect organization. There were waste, inefficiency, mistakes, but the spirit of the American doughboy surmounted every difficulty and shortcoming.

A base hospital, Dr. Loughran said, is a large institution. The one he was connected with sailed with an equipment that cost $208,000, the money furnished by individuals. The last thing the Department thought of. This hospital provided 500 to 1,000 beds. In a year its capacity grew and on November 11 it had a capacity of 15,000. The first wounded received were men from the 11th Engineers, who were with the British near Cambrai in November, 1917.

Dr. Loughran was on the British front lines for seven weeks. Life under fire he characterized as "not at all enjoyable," although the starting novelty soon wore off. Life in Paris when a shell from the Big Bertha dropped every 15 minutes, as regular as a clock, the wounded were being received direct from the front, and "we didn't know when we would have to leave or if we would have to sail for home or not," the doctor said, was also "far from enjoyable."

An Easy Road Test.

Editor Freeman: It is about election time now. What is the matter with the aldermen? If the Boulevard? Has he no will? If he has, it don't look so by the condition of the road. If he can run up the Boulevard in a Ford car in high and star in the car the road doesn't need fixing; if he don't stay in the car, I think it needs looking after. The foot of Short's street is in fine shape also. TAXPAYER.

ESOPUS REP'N CONVENTION HELD

Beaver Named For Supervisor, Card For Town Clerk, Rodman Road Superintendent—Others On The Ticket.

There was a large attendance at the Republican Esopus town convention held at Odd Fellow's Hall, Ulster Park on Saturday evening. The heavy shower which passed over this section just before the delegates started from their respective districts did not hinder the delegates or dampen their enthusiasm from being present.

The convention was called to order and Abraham H. Schryver of Port Ewen was appointed chairman and Arthur E. Frounfeld of Port Ewen was appointed secretary. Later Mr. Schryver and Mr. Frounfeld were made permanent chairman and secretary of the meeting.

The committee elected to fill vacancies if there should be any were Jacob Frost of St. Remy, Elmer Lund of Esopus and Wallace Mable of Port Ewen. The above three gentlemen were appointed tellers of the convention.

The roll call of delegates was then taken by the secretary and all of the thirty delegates were present with the exception of Louis Saffir of Port Ewen who was out of town. Before the nominations were placed in order Chairman Schryver addressed the convention with a few remarks and stated that he trusted harmony would prevail throughout the meeting and that the delegates would select a reliable ticket which would bring victory at the polls next November.

The first nomination was for supervisor and John H. Beaver of Esopus was the choice of the convention without any opposition. Twenty-nine votes were cast of which Mr. Beaver received the entire vote.

The next nomination was for town clerk and Legrand Doyle of Port Ewen placed the name of the present incumbent, Charles W. Card of Port Ewen, before the delegates. Mr. Card is the well known druggist of that village and during the past two years he has held the office has proven a painstaking and efficient official in every capacity. Mr. Card received the re-nomination without any opposition, receiving twenty-nine votes cast.

For the office of collector two candidates were presented, namely: Elmer Post of Rifton and Norman Ayres of Port Ewen. Twenty-nine votes were cast. Mr. Post received 18, Mr. Ayres 10 and one vote was cast for Mr. Rodman.

For the office of superintendent of highways there were two contestants. The first man nominated was James R. Rodman of Port Ewen and the next nomination was received by Clarence Freer of St. Remy. Mr. Rodman received 19 votes and Mr. Freer 13 votes. Harry Ellsworth of Ulster Park was nominated as assessor for 4 years and received no opposition. Jeremiah Avery of South Rondout was nominated for 2 years and elected without opposition. Waldron Dumond of Ulster Park and Charles C. Beaver of Esopus were nominated justice of peace for 4 years.

For overseer of the poor there was no opposition and the nomination was received by Charles Thompson of Esopus.

Five constables were nominated and appointed as follows: William Dibble, Port Ewen; Fred Voight, South Rondout; Lyman Ellsworth, Port Ewen; W. N. Castle, St. Remy and Louis Taroni of Esopus.

The following persons were recommended for appointment for the office of inspector of election for the several districts:

No. 1—Orson A. Smith, Albert Munson. No. 2—Elbert Terpening, Arthur E. Frounfeld. No. 3—Elmer Lund, Richard J. Gardner. No. 4—Jacob Frost, Charles L. York. No. 5—Roswell Avery, Francis H. Roosa.

A committee of three to fill vacancies were Jacob Frost, Henry Knoll and Abraham H. Schryver.

The names of the delegates from the different districts who were in attendance are as follows:

No. 1—Walter E. Webb, Abraham H. Schryver, Clarence N. Hotelling, Wallace C. Mable, Alonzo Terpening. No. 2—Legrand T. Doyle, J. Elbert Terpening, Arthur E. Frounfeld, Elmer Ellsworth, Charles Hoffman, Frank Page.

No. 3—Jacob Fuchs, Elmer Lund, Howard Burger, Harry Ellsworth, Merly Green, David Terpening.

No. 4—Jacob Frost, Elmer Post, Clarence Freer, A. Wesley Van Aken, Schuyler Deyo, Julius Eckert. No. 5—Roswell P. Avery, Martin F. Avery, Jerry Avery, Charles A. Snyder, Fred Vogt, Lafayette Terpening.

Before the convention adjourned, John H. Beaver of Esopus who received nomination for supervisor made a short speech, thanking the delegates for the honor conferred upon him and that he hoped that all candidates would be elected on the Republican ticket and not to forget that next election date to be present at the polls and to see that all the ladies eligible to vote were also in attendance.

The convention then adjourned in peace and harmony, the proceedings taking about an hour for the transaction of business.

The delegates from Port Ewen and South Rondout were conveyed to the meeting with automobiles and when returning home came across an auto that only had two small lights, ditched along side of the road near the barn of R. F. D. Lector Carrier W. Terpening. As no rope or chain was obtainable the delegates rendered valuable assistance in pushing the car to the state road. The occupants were men who said they had left New York city and were bound north and were not familiar with the road.

HUGHES OUTLINES LEAGUE VIEWS

of the league. My views as to this article were stated in the enclosed address before The Union League Club (March 26, 1919) and I need not repeat them at length. I still think that Article X is a trouble-maker and not a peace-maker.

If we are entering upon a new world order of democracies, the inevitable consequence should be recognized. Democracies cannot promise war after the manner of monarchs. It is idle to attempt to commit free peoples to the making of war in an unknown contingency when such a war may be found to be clearly opposed to the dictates of justice. The limitation with respect to "external aggression" is important. It does not meet the difficulty. As the most earnest supporters of the article admit, it may be invoked against a power which has performed all its obligations under the other provisions of the covenant and be the victor "in a war legal" under Articles XII, XIII and XV.

While the importance of Article X is strongly emphasized by its supporters, it is said at the same time that the fulfillment of the engagement would be only according to the plan advised by the council of the league, and as this must be a plan upon which the members of the council unanimously agree we could veto any proposal calling for an intervention in what we deemed to be an unsuitable case. Again, it is freely recognized that war can only be declared by Congress.

Article X is objectionable because it is an illusory engagement. Whether we shall go to war to preserve the territorial integrity of another state is a situation not now disclosed or described so that the merits of the case may be judged, will depend upon the action of Congress, and that action will be taken according to the conviction of our people as to our duty in the light of the demands of justice as they appear when the exigency arises. The general guaranty of Article X cannot be relied upon to produce action contrary to its judgment. We should not enter into a guaranty which would expose us to the charge of bad faith, or of having defaulted in our obligation, notwithstanding that Congress in refusing to make war had acted in accordance with its conception of duty in the circumstances disclosed.

Of course, a limitation of the operation of Article X to a period of years would be preferable to the indefinite obligation proposed. But, in my judgement it would be better that, if Article X is not eliminated, a reservation, and interpretative statement should be adopted which would adequately recognize the limitations I have mentioned. Further, it is possible that such a reservation and interpretative statement, while sufficient for our protection would make acquiescence easier than if the elimination of the Article were required. I append the form of such a statement for your consideration.

The resolution embodying the reservations and interpretations thus suggested might be in some such form as the following:

The senate and the United States of America advise and consents to the ratification of said treaty with the following reservations and understandings, as to its interpretation and effect to be made a part of the instrument of ratification: First: That whenever two years' notice of withdrawal from the League of Nations shall have been given, as provided in Article I of the covenant, the power giving the notice shall cease to be a member of the league or subject to the obligations of the covenant of the league, notwithstanding any claim, charge or of any obligation under said covenant; provided, however, that such withdrawal shall not release the power from any debt or liability theretofore incurred.

Second: That questions relating to immigration, or the imposition of duties on imports where such questions do not arise out of any international engagement, are questions of domestic policy, and these and any other questions which according to international law are solely within the domestic jurisdiction are not to be submitted for the consideration or action of the League of Nations or of any of its agencies.

Third: That the meaning of Article XXI of the covenant of the League of Nations is that the United States of America does not relinquish its traditional attitude toward purely American questions, and is not required by said covenant to submit its policies regarding questions to the League of Nations or any of its agencies, and that the United States of America may oppose and prevent any acquisition by any non-American power by conquest, purchase or in any other manner of any territory, possession or control in the western hemisphere.

Fourth: That the meaning of Article X of the covenant of the League of Nations is that the members of the league are not under any obligation to act in pursuance of said article except as they may decide to act upon the advice of the council of the league. The United States of America assumes no obligation under said article to undertake any military expedition, or to employ its armed forces on land or sea, unless such action is authorized by the congress of the United States of America, which has exclusive authority to declare war or to determine for the United States of America whether there is any obligation on its part under said article and the means or action by which any such obligation shall be fulfilled.

With high regard, I am Very sincerely yours, CHARLES E. HUGHES.

WHO WANTS TO SEE THE WORLD?

The United States Navy Offers the Best Opportunity to Young Men, and the Lowest Pay is $32.60—Recruiting at Central Post Office.

There is a time in a young man's life when he desires most of all to see something of the world. It is not often that he can afford to do so, but there is one sure way of seeing it and being paid for doing so at the same time. The United States navy offers the best opportunity to active young men between the ages of 17 and 35 years. The lowest wages are $32.60 a month. Bed and board is furnished free by the navy.

In order to facilitate recruiting and to give the young men of Kingston and vicinity a chance a recruiting office is now open at the central post office on Broadway. A large navy banner and flag have been hung in the street showing where the recruiting office is.

While the office has been open for some time, strange to relate, but few recruits have been accepted. Other Hudson river cities are filling out their quotas, but Kingston lags behind.

With the campaign now under way it is hoped that Kingston will be able to be well represented in the navy. Drop in and have a chat with the recruiting officer and he will be glad to explain any point on which you may be in doubt.

AT THE THEATERS.

Harold Bell Wright's Story at Keeney's: A Thriller at Auditorium. California's cyclonic love story, "The Eyes of the World," taken from Harold Bell Wright's world famous novel, will be presented at Keeney's tonight with Jane Novak, Monroe Salisbury and an all star cast.

Jane Novak is admittedly one of the most beautiful women in the realm of the film. She doesn't have to be starred to attract attention, or bass-drummed or press-agented.

Nobody is starred in "The Eyes of the World" although the cast of the great multiple-reel production of Harold Bell Wright's story was as carefully selected for type and ability as the case of "Ramona" by the same producers—but that will not prevent Miss Novak, shining as a real beauty when Charles Keeney's "Ramona" has its first local presentation at Keeney's today.

At Keeney's tomorrow a circus story with Bert Lytell has been secured and there will be a real circus on the screen as well as one in town but "One Thing at a Time O' Day" promises to be a bigger thriller than the regular circus.

Southern Ulster Fruit.

Harold W. Ford of Highland has the largest crop of fine blackberries, and has set out more plants this year, so that next year he will have fifteen acres of blackberries that will bear. The berries are retailing at twenty-five cents a quart. There was a small shipment of red berries Monday to finish the season. A few currants are left. Berries are a very scarce crop. Clapp's Favorite and Bonitella are best liked. A. B. Clark and son of Marlborough send their pear crop at 500 barrels.

Harvey Vanderlyn, so well known to us all, is still on the U. S. hospital ship, "Comfort," now stationed on the Pacific coast, awaiting the arrival of the "Grand Fleet." The ship took three days to pass through the Panama Canal, so that there was a fine opportunity to see the work. Before leaving the Atlantic coast, Harvey had the pleasure of welcoming his little daughter, Doris Elizabeth, lately arrived, here. Needless to say he is a very, very happy man. This will be probably his last cruise, after many years in the service of the navy, he intends to settle down on shore. Miss Foster, a cousin of Dr. Loughran, is stopping at Mrs. Markle's. Miss Foster may be remembered as having visited the village several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Coons of New Jersey are visitors their daughter, Mrs. Clarence Lockwood.

L. Townsend of Hartford is visiting his sister, Mrs. Johnston.

Mrs. Fuchs and Master Herbert Carlson are late arrivals at Charles Dumond's.

Mrs. Anderson, a niece of Mrs. John Maxon, is at Mrs. Markle's.

Talentown, July 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Krum have returned from their trip to Denver, Colo. They arrived at the home of Mrs. Krum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Rattiner on Tuesday. They report a very pleasant trip. On Wednesday afternoon they called on Mr. Krum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Krum, in Krumville, and on Thursday morning they started for their home in May Brook, taking with them their daughter, Julia Mae, who has stayed with her grandparents.

These while her parents were away. She will be greatly missed in their home.

Those that called at the Roosa home on Wednesday evening were Harry Coons and family and Joseph M. Lennon and family.

Robert Dumond, who has been employed at Mohawk Lake for some time, has returned to his home here and is assisting his father with his harvest.

John Feldmann has been entertaining his brother, Peter, and wife for some time.

Miss Helen Rodgers of Tabasco is in this place on Tuesday and Friday buying butter and eggs for which she is paying a nice price.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Van Bumble and Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Passon of Schenectady recently spent a short time at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Freeman Roosa. While here they picked a fine lot of huckleberries, with which they were greatly pleased.

WINNING EVERY START.

Filly Given By Winston A Sensation.

The little filly that was purchased a little over a year ago by Myron C. Dewey, at the Red Cross sale at the Hudson River Driving Park, and was given by J. O. Winston for the benefit of the fund, has all the appearances of proving the sensation of the eastern tracks, having appeared in seven races within the past few weeks and has taken first place in every start.

Mr. Dewey named her Sally Worth but not having the time to give her the attention needed he sold her to Dr. J. D. Thompson, a well known horseman who lives a short distance out of Boston. She is now three-years old and although she showed some promise last season, there was no indication that she was going to develop into anything out of the ordinary. This spring she started out at a 2-10 odds and in the races in which she was entered she went 2-34, then 2-12 and 2-28.

In her last start she entered with a fast field and pushed ahead in 2:19.

Dr. Thompson who lives several miles from Boston will not run the risk of injuring the mare by driving her to and from the track, so he has arranged a trailer for his automobile in the form of a horse ambulance into which he drives the animal. Dr. Thompson believes he has in Sally Worth the sensation of the year and Mr. Dewey, who knows the little animal, concurs with him in his opinion.

Alderman Mann's Quick Wit.

Early this morning the large Kaplan Vim truck, which was standing in front of the post office on lower Broadway, started to run away toward the city.

At the Mansion House it started to run up on the sidewalk and then headed across the street toward the First National Bank. At this interesting juncture Alderman Ralph Mann, who was passing, leaped into the driver's seat and steered the big truck safely around the corner into the Strand and then brought it to a stop. It is likely that the brakes were not properly set when the truck was left standing, which caused it to run away.

LARKIN'S BIG SHOE SALE

Strikes a New Blow at the High Cost of Living!
$20,000 Worth of High Grade Shoes
at Prices from 10 to 40 Per Cent
Under the Market

The question for thoughtful people to consider right now is not what do things cost TODAY, but what will they cost in the next few months to come. Every head of a home, every man and woman who has to look the family budget in the eye, should awake to the advantages of buying now for future needs, for we will make prices that will defy the market and may not be duplicated in months or perhaps years.

The question naturally arises, if our stock is growing in leaps and bounds, why not hold them for the future, since shoes are so scarce and present retail prices so comparatively low?

The answer is, OUR SHOE STOCK is so large that we could hardly have room to place any more, due to the placing of orders far ahead at old prices, and new shoes are arriving daily from sources few stores can reach.

PUBLICITY FOR AMERICAN LEGION

Members to be on Equal Plane and to Have Access to all Information
—Applicants Signing Here—Dues
to be Low.

During the past week many cards were filled out and signed by those desiring to become members of Kingston Post, New York State Branch of the American Legion. As soon as the charter is received a meeting will be called and permanent officers elected and committees appointed. The executive committee will then proceed to act upon the application cards for membership and those elected will be notified by the local secretary. The dues amount to the small sum of $2 or more a year, which will be determined at the next meeting.

The American Legion has at the outset determined that publicity should be one of its watchwords. To that end it has inaugurated a comprehensive policy, the result of which it is expected will be to make every member of the Legion as well as every American citizen that may be in the slightest degree interested, fully acquainted with the affairs and policies of this organization.

In the proposed charter of the Legion just introduced in congress it is stipulated that the accounts of the organization shall, as is the case with the American Red Cross, be audited by the war department and that the records of the organization shall at all times be open to public scrutiny. This policy is an absolutely necessary one in carrying out the idea that the Legion should be at once non-partisan and non-political and nothing more nor less than 100 per cent American.

There is liable to be a discussion as to the meaning of the phrase "100 per cent Americanism" and in order that it may be clear to all the world that there are no hidden motives in any of the policies of the Legion, that there are no private ends being served, there must be nothing about the organization that is not subject to the most thorough-going publicity. The Legion and those who are at any moment in charge of its affairs may do foolish or unwise things but if these acts are in perfect good faith and made public immediately, though they may be criticized, there will be ample time to correct them before any damage is done and the experience cannot but be helpful to the organization as a whole.

Its Acts Are Open.
It is of supreme importance, of course, that every member of the Legion should clearly know that the Legion is not an organization in any sense militaristic—the influence of the private will be just as great as that of the general. To this end he must know always who the Legion's officers are, where the money comes from—in fact every detail concerning the Legion's affairs should and will be at all times available to the

AMERICA'S IMMORTALS

GEORGE G. MUMFTRY,
Captain, 308th Infantry.

Captain Mumftry received the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry in action at Charlevaux, in the Forest d'Argonne, France, October 2 to 8, 1918. Captain Mumftry commanded a battalion which was cut off and surrounded by the enemy and, although wounded in the knee by shrapnel on October 4, and suffering great pain, continued throughout the entire period to encourage his officers and men with a resolute optimism that contributed largely toward preventing panic and disorder among the troops who were without food, cut off from communication with our lines. October 4, during a heavy barrage, he personally directed and supervised the moving of the wounded to shelter before he himself sought shelter. October 6 he was wounded in the shoulder by a German grenade, but continued personally to organize and direct the defense against the German attack on the position until the attack was defeated. He continued to direct and command his troops, refusing relief, and personally led his men out of the position after assistance arrived, before permitting himself to be taken to the hospital October 8. During this period the successful defense of the position was due largely to his efforts. His wife is at 22 East 70th street, New York.

The members of Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet at the lodge rooms this evening at 7:15 o'clock and march to the home of the late Judson S. Neice, who died Sunday, where the Mechanics' funeral service will be held.

Right Definition of a Classic.

A classic is properly a book which maintains itself by virtue of that happy coincidence of matter and style, that innate and exquisite sympathy between the thought that gives life and the form that conveys to every mood and of grace and dignity, which can be simple without being vulgar, elevated without being distant, and which is something neither ancient nor modern, always new and incapable of growing old.—Lowell.

In Which the Need of Street Signs, Politics, the Weather and Other Matters Are Discussed—Democrats Meet Tonight.

"What we need in Kingston," said the customer, "is more street signs, and plenty of them."

"I agree with you," replied the busy barber, "for strolling about town I notice that a large number of the streets have no signs, and it makes it hard for one not well acquainted to find just the street he is seeking as there are no signs to aid him."

"By the looks of it," interrupted the customer, "some of the streets never had signs. It seems to me the authorities should get busy and remedy matters."

"Talking about signs," said the barber, "reminds me of the man who just left. Up to within the past year he was always able to predict accurately the kind of weather each day would bring forth."

"Member of the weather bureau," asked the customer.

"Nope," replied the barber, "but he claimed that his wife by feeling of her hair when he did it up first thing in the morning could always forecast the weather. If the roots

The Braganza Diamond.

The Braganza diamond is a great mystery. Very few people have ever been allowed the privilege of looking at it, and of these few some are of the opinion it is not a diamond at all, but merely a wonderful specimen of white topaz. At any rate, it is generally conceded to be a diamond and is considered the jewel supreme of the crown jewels of the late reigning house of Portugal, the ancestral family of the duke of Braganza.

LAW OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.

CHAP. 24.
AN ACT to amend the tax law, in relation to payment of state tax.

Enacted a law April 16, 1919, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section ninety-one of chapter sixty-two of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled "An act in relation to taxation, constituting chapter thirty of the consolidated laws," is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 31. Payment of state tax. The comptroller shall charge each county treasurer with the amount of the state tax levied in his county, except the tax for schools, crediting him with his fees, if any, but no fees shall be allowed by the comptroller for such portion of the state tax as is credited by him for unpaid non-resident taxes. The county treasurer of each county shall, after retaining his fees thereon, at the rate of one per centum thereof, which shall not, however, in any case exceed fifteen hundred dollars for all taxes for state purposes, including schools, pay the state tax to the treasurer of the state, as follows: One-third of the state tax exclusive of the state tax for schools on or before the fifteenth day of February, one-third thereof on or before the fifteenth day of April, the balance thereof on or before the fifteenth day of May in each year, and notify the comptroller of such payment. Whenever the state tax for schools, payable by any county, shall exceed the appropriation to such county of state school moneys as made by the state commissioner of education in accordance with the provisions of the education law, such excess shall be paid by the treasurer of such county to the treasurer of the state on or before the fifteenth day of March in each year, and such treasurer shall notify the state commissioner of education of such payment. If there are not sufficient funds in the county treasury standing to the credit of any tax district to pay the state tax chargeable thereon, the treasurer shall borrow sufficient money upon the credit of the county and charge the same against such tax district, with interest thereon until the same is paid. If any county treasurer shall not pay over the state tax, including the state tax for schools, as herein directed, the comptroller shall charge on all taxes without such rate of interest as shall be sufficient to repay all expenditures incurred by the state in borrowing money equivalent to the amount so withheld, and such additional rate as he shall deem proper, not exceeding two per centum, from the date hereinafter provided for such payment in each year, which shall be recorded as funds in the hands of the county treasurer belonging to the state and for which his sureties and county shall be liable. The fees of the county treasurer for collecting and paying over the school tax shall be allowed and paid by the commissioner of education.

This section, as amended, shall be deemed to supersede any other provision of this chapter or of any other general or special law inconsistent therewith.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State, 1919.

I have compared the preceding with the original law on this in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom and of the original law.

APPEALED DAMAGE CASES OPINION

Three Years Litigation Ends When New York Is Denied Right To Appeal Brigham and Other Riparian Rights Cases.

In the cases of Harold S. Brigham, Augustus Elmendorf, Marietta Hotelling and William D. Brinnier, Jr., in which the decision of the Court of Appeals has been heretofore published, Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier, their attorneys have received the opinion of the court.

The City of New York appealed in these cases from the judgment of the Appellate Division affirming the awards made to these claimants. The attorneys for the claimants made a motion to dismiss the appeal and claimed the city had no right to appeal without permission of the Appellate Division which they had failed to obtain. New York city claimed the right to appeal under its Special Asshoken Reservoir Acts. The Court of Appeals in its decision sustains the contention of the attorneys for the claimants and holds that the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure supersede the provisions of the city's special acts and controls and dismisses the appeal of the city thus finally ending the three years' litigation in favor of the claimants.

The opinion is as follows: In the Matter of the claim of Harold S. Brigham and others, against the city of New York, pursuant to section 42, chapter 724 of the laws of 1906, as amended, etc. (Decided July 16, 1919).

Per Curiam. Chapter 724 of the Laws of 1906 provides for the acquisition by the city of New York of land and interest therein for the construction of the necessary reservoirs and appurtenances for an additional water supply. From the confirmation of the report of the commissioners, appointed to assess damage, an appeal is allowed by section 22 which reads as follows: "But from any determination of the special term an appeal may be taken to the appellate division and from any determination of the appellate division, either party if aggrieved, may take an appeal which shall be heard and determined by the court of appeals."

This act was amended by the following laws without any change, however, being made in section 22:

Chapter 314, Laws of 1906, amending section 3, 11, 13, 17, 31, 35, 37, 41 and 42; chapter 430, Laws of 1907, amending section 33; chapter 478, Laws of 1914, adding new section 35; chapter 527, Laws of 1915, amending sections 11 and 42; chapter 601, Laws of 1916, amending section 40.

On June 1, 1917, chapter 290 of the Laws of 1917 went into effect, amending section 190 of the Code of Civil Procedure regarding the jurisdiction of the court of appeals. It reads: "From and after the 31st day of May, 1917, the jurisdiction of the court of appeals shall, in civil actions and proceedings, be confirmed to the review upon appeal of an actual determination made by an appellate division of the supreme court in either of the following cases and no others."

The instances in which an appeal may be taken as matter of right are then specified. No appeal, however, is allowed from unanimous affirmance by the appellate division finally determining an action or special proceeding not appealable as matter of right unless the appellate division shall certify that, in its opinion, a question of law is involved which ought to be revived by the court of appeals or where in case of the refusal to certify, an appeal is allowed by this court.

This amendment to section 190 of the Code of Civil Procedure now regulates the practice on all appeals from judgment or orders and in effect supercedes and repeals special provisions like those contained in section 22 of chapter 724 of the Laws of 1906, referred to above. Where a later act covers the whole subject of earlier acts, together with new provisions, and plainly shows that it was intended not only as a substitute for the earlier acts, but to cover the whole subject, then considered by the legislature and to prescribe the only rules in respect thereto, it will operate as repeal of all former statutes relating to such subject-matter even if such former acts are not in all respects repugnant to the new act. (City of Buffalo vs. Lewis, 132 N. Y. 133; People vs. Joehne, 103 N. Y. 184, 194; King vs. Corzelli, 106 U. S. 335.)

This motion is made to dismiss the appeal of the city of New York taken from a judgment of affirmance entered September 26, 1918. The decision of the appellate division was unanimous and it is stated in the moving papers that no application had been made to that court for leave to appeal. The appellant states that many like appeals are pending and that a decision in the Van Eiten case about to be argued in this court will be decisive of all points involved. It will be noticed that in the Van Eiten case the appellate division allowed an appeal in accordance with section 190. No such allowance has been made in this case and the time to apply for leave to appeal has expired. The motion, therefore, to dismiss the appeal is granted, with costs.

Appeal dismissed.

PRESBYTERIANS AT STONY BROOK

First Summer Conference of the New Era Movement Opened Today—The Presbytery of North River Represented by the Rev. J. W. Babbitt.

By Telegram to the Freeman.

Stony Brook, N. Y., July 28.—Every Presbyterian church in the United States, and through each church every community, is vitally concerned in the first New Era Summer Conference to be held here this week, for which delegates began arriving today in large numbers.

The conference is intended to perfect plans and methods for a five-year warfare against the forces of evil, and for immediate intensive effort toward enabling the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. to help solve the world's pressing problems resulting from the world war, the menace of Bolshevism, the industrial unrest, the need of evangelism. The meetings are under the direction of the Presbyterian New Era Movement, which aims to win the world for Christ by applying the principles of brotherhood and Christianity and the lessons learned from the war to every phase of personal, social and community life.

Speakers of national fame will address the sessions, and there will be intimate conferences intended to inspire the delegates with a definite program for reaching humanity through the local churches.

These delegates are to carry back to the communities plans for enlisting the fullest effort of every church member, men, women and children, toward efficient operation of the New Era keynote, "The whole church behind its whole world task, with a definite task for you and me."

The Presbytery of North River, of which the Rondout Presbyterian Church and the First Presbyterian Church of Elmendorf street, are members, is represented officially by the Rev. J. W. Babbitt of Newburgh.

As to Shaving.

When it comes to shaving, we have the word of Billy for it that Joseph Africanus was the first man who ever shaved everyday. Whether Mr. Africanus shaved himself or was shaved by a barber, Billy does not say, but it may be gathered from certain remarks of Billy that this is an important point in any man's habits. Asked if Napoleon cut his own whiskers, the great French statesman replied: "Yes. One has to be a king but someone to shave him, but they who acquire kingdoms shave themselves."

Plain Facts About the Furniture Shortage and the August Sale

Grand Rapids, as most people know, is the furniture center of the United States.

Twice a year 350 of the leading furniture manufacturers of the country, in addition to about 40 local makers, exhibit their samples there and take orders for six months ahead.

This year the Summer exposition and sale was scheduled to begin June 23 and continue for one month.

It closed practically within a week

As a matter of fact, most of the factories were oversold the first day.

More than 2,200 retail buyers attended the sale. The highest number in former years was about 1,700.

800 buyers were there the first day—all of them within the week. Formerly they used to come gradually—Eastern buyers first, Western buyers later—after the fourth of July.

This year they poured upon Grand Rapids at one time.

Hotels had to put from 4 to 15 cots in a room to house them. Private homes had to open their doors.

Factory showrooms were bombarded. Literally hundreds of buyers were clamoring to get in at 8.30 o'clock on the first Monday. When admitted the buyers overran the place, made out their own orders (prices are always marked in plain figures on the furniture), took these orders to the office, and said, "Ship as soon as you can."

Some of the factories closed up their display rooms after the first days' to see where they were at. Most of them were sold out. On all the exhibits this card was prominently displayed—

All orders accepted at current prices until shipped Nov. 1st will be shipped at the prices prevailing at time of shipment. Orders notified Nov. 1st are subject to cancellation at buyer's option.

On samples as much as 25 per cent. premium was offered for immediate delivery. Prices were not questioned. Ship as soon as you can at any price, factories were told.

Now why this condition?

Here were buyers from stores in every part of

OUR FIRST GREAT BATTLE
FLEET SAFELY THROUGH CANALNewly Created Pacific Fleet of Powerful Fighters Threaded Panama Waterway in Nine Hours Without Trouble.

(By Frank G. Menke.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.
On Board the U. S. S. Arkansas
With the Pacific Fleet, July 28.— (By wireless)—Having achieved the historic feat of being the first great armada of warships to pass through the Panama Canal, the Pacific fleet under its commander Admiral Rodman, steamed out into the Pacific today, on the last lap of the long voyage to San Diego.All of the canal locks worked perfectly and the fleet moved through without a hitch, making the passage
in about nine hours, not counting anchorage time lost for fueling.
Slowly and majestically the great
gray-waisted men of war moved down
the last stretch of the canal waterway last Sunday, passing out into the ground swell of the Pacific while the sailors cheered. Fueling had been completed on Saturday morning and there was a great deal of hustle on board while the sailorswere getting ready for the last leg.
The six ponderous super-dreadnoughts, with their immense hulls and long bristling guns, looked as though they were going to offer a stiff problem to the canal authorities,
but they cleared the waterway in
ship shape order and anchored off Balboa.About thirty destroyers, older ships and miscellaneous craft, were all riding at anchor when the super-dreadnoughts arrived about six o'clock Saturday evening.Official sailing orders were received late Saturday night. The dreadnoughts were to proceed northward in close formation followed by the smaller craft, but it was announced the stately procession into San Diego harbor would be led by Admiral Rodman's flagship the "New Mexico."Half of the crews and officers were given shore leave Saturday night.
The other half were given land leave
in Balboa and Panama City on Sunday.DOLLAR DAY
WILL PROVE ITEducation of Public to Wisdom of Buying of the Merchant Who Spends His Money Here is Aim.The principal purpose of Dollar
Day, which is to be conducted in this city on Wednesday, July 31, is to acquaint the buying public with the good values that can be obtained in the stores of this city. The merchants, as has already been stated,
believe that their stocks of merchandise are fully equal to those carried by any out of town merchants. They further believe that their prices are as reasonable as those offered by any foreign merchant. To show and convince the people that these two opinions are true, they will hold a Dollar Day at which time regular,
clean, standard merchandise will, so far as possible be offered at a dollar. The larger merchandise will be offered at reductions measured in dollars.The shop-at-home educational plan
sums to this: Every purchase of merchandise made in the stores of this city is a benefit to the town as a whole. Increased sales of a store mean improvements, improvements
mean work for contractors. Work for contractors means more work for carpenters, plumbers, electricians,
etc. Increased sales for a business house may also mean the purchase of another delivery motor car and as a consequence thereof a sale of tires,
gasoline, oils and other accessories.
It may mean the employment of additional help. More work for the laboring man means additional purchases on the part of him and his family. Thus the shop-at-home idea rotates, all benefiting by all co-operations.It is hoped that every store in the city will participate in this event.
Dollar Day cards will appear in the show windows of all who are taking part. The stores on August 6 will be open during the regular hours far as present arrangements have been made.Two Speeders Caught.Saturday Officer Soper arrested

man, of loneliness, of victory, of defeat. His mind was eager, his heart was true, his body and spirit, defiant
of obstacles, ready to meet what might come.He fought injustice and tyranny;
he bore sorrow gallantly; loved all nature, bleak spaces and hardy companions, hazardous adventure and the zest
of battle. Wherever he went he carried his own pack, and in the utter-most parts of the earth he kept his conscience for his guide.PERUVIAN BOY SCOUTS.The boy scout movement in Peru has made considerable progress in the three years since the first scout brigade was established. It has now extended to all the principal cities
there.The official report for the year says that the scout movement in Peru has filled a need among a people whose education is along purely intellectual lines, and efforts which tend to the development of the mental, physical and moral forces of the young are all the more necessary to make the future generation a creditable one.The scout movement in Peru has made as much progress as private initiative will warrant. The hope is now that the government will aid in the work.The execution of Peru scouts, last week, was made to the Panama mail."HANKFUL FOR SCOUT TRAINING""What the army of occupation comes to do, I don't know, and what I don't know in regard to the handling of wounded and the first aid is taught in scout training. If I did not have the men who had been taught by us boys and as officials would have been at a loss in picking up the wounded from the front line trench. Two such have been recommended for the P. S. C.
I am in war they showed themselves to be true scouts. The only thing I can say is, 'Thank God for the scouts,
who have I have been prepared.'"
And Scout Edward Pickering is not the only one who has expressed these sentiments.BOY SCOUT DOINGS.Boy scouts of Los Angeles, Cal., held off one day in their milk bottle
drive to secure funds for their continued work.The boy scouts in State College, Tex., organized and maintained a fire fight-ing patrol to assist the community in preventing or controlling forest fires.Among the daily good turns reported by the boy scouts of Troop No. 1
of Albion, Okla., was recovering a stolen dog after following the thief for five miles.Boy scouts in a troop in Woodford, Mo., saved the lives of two people
from drowning at different times and rendered first-aid to a woman who had been knocked down by a vehicle and injured.The beauty of Oklahoma City will be preserved, because the boy scouts are on the job. An unauthorized printing of trees on streets or on park property will be reported to the park commissioner.One thousand Roosevelt memorial trees of white Norway pine, secured from the forestry commission, were planted by boy scouts at Baudette,
Minn.All that the boy scouts of Gloucester, Mass., ask is for the township to buy the lawn mower, and they'll see that the town hall grass stays well trimmed.Torre Haute, Ind., has designated a conspicuous bit of park property to become "Scout park." Here each troop will plant a Roosevelt memorial tree, while all the scouts will undertake to beautify the park.Use for "Waste Lands."Every state in the union has some part of the swamp and wet lands that for the entire country have an aggregate area of 102,800,000 acres—larger than Iowa, Illinois and Indiana combined and three-fourths as large as France. The agricultural value of these lands varies considerably, but specialists of the United States department of agriculture believe that large areas, if properly drained and cleared by public or private co-operation, could be transformed into productive farms.Left Foot Larger.Your left foot is larger than your right—in 99 cases out of 100. Science explains it in many ways; but we accept the easiest one, which is that we are a world of left-footed leaguers.
We lean against posts and door jambs,
and we do most of our leaning on the left foot; consequently, through the years it has grown to support the weight that the right foot does not.
The next time you buy shoes, have your left foot measured first.Temper and Tight Cuffs.Dr. Leonard Williams, lecturing on "Common Sense" at a summer conference and exhibition in London, said that people with tight collars did not drain their brains properly, and often suffered from bad tempers. He had noticed that since women and men wore high collars and wore wearing apparel which gave complete freedom
to the neck they had become sweeter tempered.Not Meant for Mouthful Pats.If taken young the grizzly is easy enough to handle, for at birth he weighs only from 10 to 20 pounds and is about the size of a full-grown chip-munk. Later the bears run between 300 and 600 pounds in weight, although they have been known to reach 1,500 pounds. This, of course, makes the domestication of grizzlies by agricultural house dwellers difficult.HATHAWAY THEATRES*KEENEY'S THEATRE

following a sensational raid on an alleged gambling house near Lynbrook early Sunday.

It is the business of these girls to make the acquaintance of wealthy hotel guests, entice them to gambling houses, and assist the management in soothing the feelings of heavy losers who are inclined to "squall" to the police.

The Nassau county civic organization, which engineered Sunday morning's raid is determined to drive gambling houses from Long Island and has employed a large force of private detectives. The raid on Lynbrook was carried out during a severe electrical storm. When officials smashed their way through iron doors and steel-latticed windows, they found forty or fifty women, some of them in evening clothes, and an equal number of men gathered about card tables and roulette tables with $500 and $1,000 bills scattered about. The proprietor, cashier and doorman refused to give their names when arrested and were looked as "John Proprietor," "John Cashier" and "John Doorman."

A man who gave the name of Wilson Mizner, the playwright, furnished cash bail.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Gilmore-Hallion.

Harry J. Gilmore of Saugerties, and Miss Elizabeth Hallion of Catskill were married by Rev. Joseph G. Cushman in St. Mary's Church, Saugerties, July 19th.

Hermance-Hopper.

Samuel Hermance of Rosendale and Miss Pansy Hopper of No. 18 Hurley avenue were quietly married on Sunday by the Rev. A. A. Zabriske. Both are popular young folks and have the well wishes of a host of friends for a long and prosperous married life.

Parker-Erlett.

Percy Parker of No. 5 Ten Broeck avenue, and Miss Catherine Elizabeth Erlett of No. 31 Maple street were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock by the Rev. Dean John J. Hickey in St. Mary's Church. The bridesmaid was Miss Theresa Wolf and the best man was Walter Fitzgerald. Following the ceremony a reception was held. Following a honeymoon trip to the seashore Mr. and Mrs. Parker will reside in this city. They have the well wishes of a host of friends.

Pope-Hayden.

Miss Elsie Hayden, one of New Paltz's most popular young ladies, was married on July 23 to J. Arthur Pope of Newark, N. J., at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Philip H. DuBois, in New Paltz. At six o'clock the bridal party descended the stairway, making their way to the west lawn, where the bridegroom and his best man, C. Harold Pope, awaited them before a trellis of ground pine, ferns and golden rod. The Rev. J. Scott King of Little Britain, N. Y., officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth King of the same place. Mrs. Margaret Hayden, mother of the bride, gave her away. The bride was very becomingly gowned in white Georgette, heavily beaded. The tulle veil in cap effect was caught with an orange wreath. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The only ornaments worn were the diamond and platinum bar pin, which was the gift of the bridegroom and a ring set with three diamonds, a gift from her mother. The bride's gifts to the bridegroom and her maid of honor were topaz rings. Guests were present from Plainfield, New York city, Pearl River and Newark, N. J.

Law of Falling Bodies.

Since a body falls to the ground in consequence of the earth's attraction on each of its molecules, it follows that everything else being the same, all bodies, great and small, light and heavy, ought to fall with equal rapidity. The fact that a stone falls more rapidly than a feather is due solely to the unequal resistance opposed by the air to the descent of these bodies. In a vacuum all bodies fall with equal rapidity.

Exercised Discretion.

Richard, on his first visit to the country, climbed the fence into the field where a Jersey cow was grazing. The cow, being somewhat of a pet, greeted him with a loud and joyous moo, whereupon Richard beat a hasty and disorderly retreat. "No, I wasn't edaciously afraid," he explained; "but when she kept saying, 'Move, move,' I thought I'd better keep a-movin'!"

I will not be responsible for any bills contracted in my name by anyone. J. D. WINFIELD, Hurley, N. Y.

Women Senators of Old.
Rome, as early as the year 219
A. D., recognized a senate of women.
This senate, though, differed from most others by confining its considerations and its discussions to matters of politics and dress. The assembly had the approbation of the Quirinal. The extravagance and vice were the outstanding characteristics of the senate of Elagabalus. Hence, the necessity of having conferences of the sort.

GOING TO TAKE THE KIDDIES TO THE CIRCUS TOMORROW?
Robinson's Collection of Wonders Was Started 95 Years Ago and Travels in Three Trains---To Be at Carnival Grounds.

Tomorrow is circus day in Kingston and thousands of children are supremely happy and are counting the hours that bring the wonders of the show near. Bright and early tomorrow morning they will be up and will flock to the New York Central yards to see the unloading of the three trains and will follow the wagons, the horses and the elephants to the grounds.
It's John Robinson's circus that's coming tomorrow, one of the oldest largest and best in the United States, a show that is ninety-five years old, yet the management says
the only thing about the big assignment is the name, John C. Robinson, a grandson of the founder, is in direct charge of the show.
In the olden days John Robinson
the first traveled by wagon from town to town and did all his work with men. Now the show is transported on long trains and the management uses numerous mechanical devices to assist the men. All the cans are rolled on huge spools built on steel frame wagons. The stakes are driven by gasoline mauls, all the cooking is done by gas, generated on the grounds, and the majority of the wagons are hauled from the trains
to the grounds behind large tract-ors.
The horses with John Robinson's circus only make one trip in the morning. Then they are placed in the stable tents and gotten ready for the big street parade. Tomorrow
this parade will leave the grounds shortly before 11 o'clock. There will be five bands, two calliopes, numerous open cages of rare wild animals,
lots of funny clowns, scores of mounted people, a herd of elephants,
camels that drive like horses, a section for the children and a division
of wild west folks.
Two performances will be given in Kingston. The first will be started at 2 o'clock and the second at 8 o'clock will be thrown open an hour
earlier for manager's inspection.

FORSYTH PARK

in the race for the Admiral Higginson cup, defeating McVey's Field by a score of 7 to 2. The game was last and close up to the ninth inning
when Forsyth Park showed four runs across the plate on three hits. Mc-Vey's Field still leads having won the first two games of the series of which three have been played. The next game is Saturday afternoon at Forsyth Park between the two recreation
clubs. The score:

Caught at Last.
A father said to his pretty daughter one morning:
"What time did you and that young Simpson come home last night?"
"Oh," replied the girl, "I don't think it was very late."
"It must have been close to midnight."
"Why, father?"
"I don't you and him out the back door and hurry off to bed when you heard me coming in?"
"Why, father, I had been in bed for
hours."
"You heard me, then?"
"Yes, you woke me up."
"And you had been in bed for
hours?"
"I'm hush."
"That certainly is funny."
"Why?"
"Because when I went to light the lamp I nearly burned my hands off on the hot chimney."—Youngstown Telgram.

Feetish Old Customs Service.
St. Olaf's Grammar school, once worth $150, is now valued at $25,000
but the rest is still a bunch of rags.
The ancient city of Chichester must provide a string for the king's service
while the lord of Bampton, in Forest, must provide a big with a saddle and bow and muffed arrows, whenever the king makes war on Wales. The town of Bampton, Great Wood near Chichester, must pay the mayor of Chichester a wild boar, or its equivalent in cash, yearly.—London

Worth More Than That Now.
On June 20, in 1632, the patent of Maryland, granted to George Calvert, Lord Baltimore, was after his death
made over to his son, Cecilius Calvert.
King Charles signed the new patent and gave to the grant of land the name of Maryland, in honor of his queen, Henrietta Maria. While Lord Baltimore held the grant he sold for it partly to the crown of England two Indian arrows, which are still on exhibition at Windsor castle, England.

Division of Samoan Islands.
By the agreement of December 2,
1899, among the United States, Great Britain and Germany, the Samoan islands were divided between the United States and Germany. Great Britain retiring and accepting compensation for her retirement in the form of colonial concessions elsewhere in the world. This agreement ended a long series of outbreaks and disorder in the islands amounting to a state of civil war, due it was charged at the time,

Germans.

The KITCHEN CABINET

By friendship I mean the greatest love and the greatest usefulness and the most open communication and the holiest sufferings and the most exemplary faithfulness and the severest truth and the heartiest counsel and the greatest union of mind, of which brave
men and women are capable.
—Jeremy Taylor.

HOUSEHOLD CONVENIENCES.
The skillful worker in any business always keeps up to date tools, for he knows he will thus increase his efficiency. The efficient housewife also knows that time, strength
and temper are lost by using old, worn-out and
cumbersome utensils.
Why use dull paring and carving knives when a small sharpener can be bought which will keep all cutting tools in good order? If there is any one thing which will cause one to use strong language it is a dull carving knife.
A tray to remove food and dishes
from the dining table or to carry it to the table is a great saving of steps.
If one cannot afford to buy a wheeled tray or tea wagon get the handy man
to make you one, using the small wheels from an old go-cart. A wire dish drainer is light and can be used as a tray if no other is at hand, for it is easy to carry.
Paper or wooden trays or plates
make fine dishes to use in the ice box,
for they do not break and may be renewed often at little expense.
Paper of all kinds saves dish washing. Wipe out the greasy dishes with a piece of soft paper before putting them into the dish water. Keep the table wiped up with paper, saving the dishcloth for stains and grease.
A kitchen table covered with zinc or some hard surface that does not need scouring to keep clean is a most necessary kitchen convenience. Some good scrapers, a good clock, a kitchen cabinet with everything at hand to use in cooking, are all necessary equipment.
Keep a bottle of kerosene near the sink, and when it is dry wipe out with a cloth dampened with kerosene; it will keep clean without scouring.
Repeated scouring with various cleansing powders will ruin the surface, so that it becomes rough and stains easily.
A small, simple old rocking chair
in the kitchen will save many a breakdown. Drop into it while doing various things and relax when possible.
Keep a card index of recipes in the kitchen in a convenient place to use
in planning the meals.
Nellie Maxwell

"Keep your mind off the heat," say the doctors.
"That's the way to keep cool."
With a Victrola on your porch and some happy-hearted, light-footed music playing, it is quite possible to forget all about the heat.
